OFFICIAL EFFICIENCY.

There were some pertinent words spoken at a complimentary dinner held in this city last week, at which a number of county officers were present, and undoubtedly what was said by the president of the board of directors at that time will be carefully remembered, and the community will as a whole be extremely pleased should the supervisors continue to act upon what was then said.

Mr. McKay, as usual, went straight to the point when he asserted that the business men and taxpayers of the county appreciated the getting of results by the county officers more than the doing of politics, and that there was little doubt about the satisfaction that now prevailed in connection with the efficient manner in which the present board had carried out the pledges of its members at the time of election as to economy, yet without curtailing necessary work.

The speaker went even further in his commendation and stated that for himself he would gladly support the present incumbents for reelection, based upon their record alone, and he had no doubt that the members of the board of trade would almost unanimously feel as he did and throw their influence and support in favor of the men who have made good under conditions which have been a handicap.

When the present board came into office it found a county debt of $62,000 in the shape of a deficit, yet this has been cleared off, all work has been practically completed, other good work is being done, and all in spite of an extra expenditure of $20,000 for damage to roads due to floods.—Hilo Tribune.

WHY PROTECT THE TEACHER?

In another column of this issue we print a letter from a well-known Maui school teacher replying to our stand against the proposal to have the school laws changed so as to limit the authority of the department in the appointment of teachers. Our correspondent urges the single point that under the present system the teacher has no protection.

It might be asked why should a teacher be entitled to any more protection than is any other class of worker? The clerk, the stenographer, the bookkeeper, the common laborer, has no guarantee to his job save only his personal efficiency—his ability to make good. And few there are who question that this is a matter of principle. Outside of a county road job, where a man's ability to control votes is of greater weight than his ability to handle a pick and shovel, there are mighty few places where any other consideration has much weight.

It is true that, as in every other walk in life, injustice may occasionally occur under the present system. But it should be remembered that with heavy responsibility on the shoulders of the appointing power, mistakes of favoritism or prejudice are much less likely than under a system where such responsibility is scattered. Also vital mistakes of this kind are much more easily corrected than where no such direct responsibility exists. Another feature of the present school system is that a teacher upon appointment, makes a contract which is legally binding during the period of the school year. Further protection should not be expected if the efficiency of the schools is to be kept at the highest.—Maui News.

COOPERATION FOR THE CITY.

Excellent advice was given the women who assembled Saturday morning to hear Mrs. F. J. Lowrey explain the work of the Outdoor Circle of Honolulu, and to make suggestions as to similar work in behalf of Hilo. The speaker accentuated the value of cooperation among all classes in the city, declaring that if there was discrimination there will be failure. It is necessary, said the speaker, that the poor women in the city shall be interested in the work of beautifying the city, then success is certain. This is practical advice.

Still another phase of cooperation insisted upon by Mrs. Lowrey was that should an outdoor circle be organized for Hilo its members should cooperate in every way with the board of supervisors, should secure the assistance of the board in planning the work so that it will keep pace with public improvements and not result in a waste of effort. This was one of the early faults of the Honolulu circle, and the result was that considerable work by the circle there, especially as to the planting of trees, had to be done over again.—Hilo Tribune.

THE LIMIT HAS BEEN REACHED.

One feels like swearing a blue streak when reading of Wilson's action on receiving the news of the cowardly massacre of the American troops at Carrizal by the treacherous greasers, who ambushed our soldiers in Mexico and slaughtered them like sheep in the shambles. President Wilson, whom we are heartily ashamed of calling the president of the United States, sits quietly down and begins another of his eternal and infernal notes, asking Carranza to repudiate the act of his soldiers and to release the handful of men who were not butchered in the ambush but made prisoners, and the United States will forgive him and say no more about it, but consider it merely a mistake on the part of the Mexican soldiers; and thus shall peace triumph once more, though at the expense of our country's honor.—Maui Times.

FRENCH GARRISONS TILL SOIL IN NEARBY FIELDS

PARIS, France.—The proposition of M. Meline, minister of agriculture, to effect cultivation of abandoned land by the civilian population has been extended to the army. Whether there is undervalued land in the proximity of garrisons or camps of troops, the auxiliaries and territorials not continually on other service are detailed for several hours' work each day in market gardening. The products are either to be sold for the combined profit of the soldiers working the land and the owners or consumed by the troops. Civilians will not be allowed to draw any profit whatever from this exploitation.

Among the civilians groups will be organized similar to the workingmen's gardening societies that existed before the war, to work all lands abandoned by their proprietors in the neighborhood of towns. These will be cooperative and the products as well as the expense divided equally among the participants.

No. 3 blast furnace of the Pennsylvania Steel Co., at Harrisburg will be remodeled at a cost of $500,000.

Why shouldn't the Standard Oil Company make the best oil—with over 40 years experience in refining—with unequalled plant equipment? And Zerolene is scientifically refined from selected California crude—asphalt-base. Prominent authorities have recently declared that an oil correctly refined from asphalt-base crude can be made not only equal but superior to paraffine-base oils. Next time you empty the crank-case refill with Zerolene. Dealers everywhere and at service stations and agencies of the Standard Oil Company.
